COMMISSIONERS' REPORT

To the citizens of Carroll County:

The Carroll County Commissioners, in reviewing the year 1972, found it to have been a year of change and sadness.

The barn fire in July 1972 was the first major event that brought about a change here at the Home. The new replacement barn is an improvement for efficiency.

The County suffered a tremendous loss when on Sunday, October 29, 1972 Edward Stokes, our long time and beloved Superintendent, died suddenly. At once the entire complex of County affairs was changed. We will never be able to replace Mr. Stokes. Any words which we might use would be inadequate to express our thanks for the devoted and dedicated service that Edward and his wife Inez gave the County, the patients at the County Home, the employees, those in the Jail and House of Correction and the County as a whole. We have, however sought to express our thanks by the Dedication of the Report and by a plaque which appears at the County Home.

The Commissioners suffered a loss when Arthur Brown, our Chairman, decided not to run for another term. He steered the County well through the years of change. His fourteen years of service are exemplified by his patient humor and wisdom in dealing with the many problems of County Government.

COUNTY ATTORNEY'S REPORT

January 3, 1973

Carroll County Commissioners
County Home
Ossipee, New Hampshire
Re: 1972 Annual Report

Gentlemen:

The following is my report of my activities for the calendar year 1972.

During the two terms of the Superior Court ninety (90) Indictments for felonies were handled. Of these forty-eight (48) were disposed of by pleas to the offense charged. One was handled on behalf of Strafford County, while four were handled on behalf of Belknap County. Pleas were obtained in three Indictments as a result of their being reduced to misdemeanors. One other was treated as a misdemeanor by reason of the sentence imposed and the statutory provision therefor. Two of the forty-eight were pleas of not guilty by reason of insanity. Since such plea is an admission of the facts, I treat them as disposition by plea. The defendant in these cases was examined by and later committed to the State Hospital but I understand he has disappeared from there.

Of the ninety felony indictments, five were nol prossed. This usually resulted from either lack of evidence of a technical nature, suppression of evidence illegally obtained or through plea bargaining (a defendant agrees to plea to three indictments if the County Attorney will nol pross the fourth). Two were nol prossed because the cases were weak and the Defendants agreed to return to Canada where they were wanted. I later learned that they received rather stiff sentences in Canada.

Twenty-nine guilty verdicts were obtained after trial by either the Court or the jury. Seven were found not guilty after trial.

Thirty-eight misdemeanor appeals were handled in Superior Court in 1972. Of these fifteen plead guilty and after trial nine were found guilty. Eight were nol prossed and one was found not guilty.

Incidentally, of the twenty-nine felony guilty verdicts, three were granted new trials and will have to be re-tried.

Four bail forfeitures occurred by reason of the defendants failure to appear. Two were indictments and two were misdemeanors.
now is the time

Of all the guilty findings, whether by verdict or plea, nine were given suspended sentences and/or probation. Twenty-six were fined or given time and a fine and thirteen were sentenced to serve time in either the State Prison or the House of Correction.

A total of $11,515.00 in fines were imposed. One defendant was ordered to pay two $2,000.00 fines. He was also sentenced to serve from two to ten years in State Prison.

In addition to the foregoing, I also appeared numerous times to represent out-of-state wives and mothers in actions filed under the Uniform Reciprocal Enforcement of Support Act (URESAs).

I also appeared on fourteen separate Motions to Suppress Evidence, among countless other motion hearings. Sometimes, however, these can be useful to the State because they are held without a jury and therefore, proceed somewhat more quickly and, if adverse to the defendant, the result may cause a plea to the charge to be entered.

Very truly Yours,
County Attorney

CARROLL COUNTY SHERIFF'S REPORT

To the Honorable Commissioners:

As required by Statute, I hereby submit my doings for the year 1972, and am also enclosing a copy of offenses handled, a breakdown of the budget for 1972, and a copy of the asking budget for 1973.

It is the first time for a number of years that I have been able to report that the everyday routine and complaints handled by the Sheriff's Department have not increased at an alarming rate. Of course, there has been some increase with special assignments, courts, and recreational areas more demanding on the Department.

One of the largest assignments handled by the Department this year was policing of the Kancamagus Highway. Due to heavy influx of tourists and campers in this area, many problems have arisen, which resulted in a joint meeting of all law enforcement agencies to cope with it. As a result, the Deputies covered this area on their time off with a County Cruiser and the mileage money being returned to the County. It looks as if this problem is going to increase, but with cooperation and funds from forestry plus the County, this writer believes the problem can be satisfactorily resolved.

1972 was also a first for the County and the State in assigning a Deputy to the Office of County Attorney. It is my belief that this has been a big asset and I believe the County Attorney's report will bear this out.

More radio communications were added and the present system strengthened. Through the Sheriff's Department, ambulances and rescue squads have been loaned the use of radio equipment and operate on the old County frequency. This gives them direct contact with all agencies and has already proved unquestionably the value of such a system.

Court is now operating on approximately a 9 month a year basis, absorbing the time of two men, which leaves us many times with a skeleton crew, but with this dedicated Department and interest of County Government at heart, I believe operation has been smooth through the year.

This past year saw another first in the County, and that was the completion of full year policing of a Town under the jurisdiction of the Sheriff's Department. At this writing, there are five other Carroll County Towns that are investigating this method. It seems to have worked well in the Town of Bartlett, and is a way for Towns to get full time coverage at a cost somewhat less than a town operated department. This is a service performed by the Sheriff's Department without cost to the County.

Another satisfactory service is being performed by the Communications Department. Dispatching is being done for seven fire departments with fire department phones and radios installed in the Office.

Numerous burglar alarms have been installed including banks and private homes. These alarms go off in our office, if anyone enters any of these properties illegally. Already some of these alarms have gone off resulting in a quick dispatch of someone to the scene, thereby preventing thefts or quick recovery of items taken.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank the Delegation and the County Commissioners, plus all law enforcement agencies for all the help given me during the year. I know you all have the County's best interest at heart, and I look forward to working and serving with you this coming year.

I will try to answer any questions you may have at the Delegation Meetings, and certainly will welcome discussions and suggestions to improve my Department as well as County Government in Carroll County.

Sincerely,
GRANT A. FLOYD
Sheriff

REPORT OF THE
COOPERATIVE EXTENSION SERVICE
1972

Carroll County Extension is an informal educational organization for all ages, functioning outside the classroom. Educational programs in the fields of Agriculture, 4-H and other youth, Home Economics, Forestry and Community Resource Development are available to all interested county residents. The purpose of Extension is to interpret, distribute and encourage the use of knowledge in meeting the educational needs of the people and to transmit research information to those who can use it in a form which they can understand.

The Cooperative Extension Service of Carroll County receives county, state and federal financial and supervisory support. The federal support and supervision comes from the United States Department of Agriculture, through the University of New Hampshire's Cooperative Extension Service and the local financial support and supervision through the county government and the Carroll County Cooperative Extension Service Advisory Council.

The methods used in carrying out our programs include meetings, tours, field days, service letters, radio, newspapers and work with other organizations. The County Extension Agents work with anyone or any group who expresses a need and is willing to learn.

1972 County Extension Activities

1. This year, over 700 youth in the country were enrolled in a traditional 4-H club program and an additional 470 youth were enrolled in special interest or short-term 4-H programs. This represents a total increase of approximately 350 youth served from last year. These young people were taught directly by approximately 100 volunteer 4-H leaders. Extension Homemakers' groups increased their membership by approximately 16% during the year.
2. 1972 saw an increase in the service rendered to forest landowners throughout the county. Forest management advice was given to 320 landowners involving 11,250 acres. This advice ranged from the harvesting of mature timber to improvement work. This represents an increase of 30% over 1971.
3. Assistance has been given to the Jackson Conservation Commission, Governor Wentworth School Union No. 49 and Supervisory Union No. 9 in the area of planning, developing and maintaining ballfields and school lawns. Budget request was reduced in one case after their yearly program had been reviewed.

4. The home economics program was adjusted to meet the needs of a changing clientele. The 1970 census figures for Carroll County indicated that increased numbers of young people (18 years) are not moving away in search of education and work opportunities. The Extension program now includes more education in basic homemaking skills such as construction of clothing and home furnishings, nutrition, food preparation, family financial planning and wise selection of consumer goods. At the other end of the scale Carroll County has a predominance of older skilled homemakers, who are interested in ways to use their time, energy and money resources for increased satisfaction. Adjustment to their needs was made through programs on consumer protection, local heritage of architecture and furnishings, estate planning, nutrition and health.
5. An environmental awareness program was developed jointly by the Extension Service and the Soil Conservation Service. The team worked with youth camp staff, teaching basic areas of forestry, soil and water conservation, environmental awareness and methods of instruction. Four camps out of 26 expressed an interest in 1972 and more are expected in 1973.
6. The number of requests for lime and fertilizer recommendations based on soil samples in the area of vegetables, pasture and haylands has almost doubled from 68 in 1970 to over 112 this year. The acreages may be small but more people are becoming aware that this is the right place to start if they plan to put their land back into some type of production.
7. Extension is involved with other youth by assisting teachers, pre-school classes, scouts, community recreation programs and several summer youth camps in their education endeavors.
8. Assistance is provided to the low income homemakers who tend to be widely distributed through all organized Extension groups. Their special requests are provided for individually and include education in budgeting, food purchasing and nutrition.
9. Extension, in cooperation with the Carroll County Commissioners, has been involved in the Carroll County Farm operation. The objective is to increase the efficiency, quality and production of crops and livestock to a point where it is most profitable to the county. Opportunity for those in the house of correction to learn skills is the overall program.
10. Extension helped organize and participated in a forestry field day held at Cranmore Mountain. Over 300 people from Maine and New Hampshire were shown that, through wise management, timber can be harvested in conjunction with a recreation oriented operation. A ski touring trail was made after the harvesting of timber.

11. Boys and girls in the traditional 4-H club program enroll in a club and learn-by-doing a variety of citizenship skills and then each one becomes involved in one or more of the 50 4-H educational projects. These projects range from the variety of animal science projects to clothing, foods and nutrition, arts and crafts, conservation and public speaking. This past year boys and girls in the 4-H program participated in over 3,000 4-H projects.
12. Extension Agents planned and organized several state and regional educational conferences held in Carroll County and attended by several hundred people. These conferences held during the off season brought additional income to our area.
